February 2011

Dear readers...

30

Clair Crowston's jacket has been specially designed in DK for standard gauge machines

At the start of every New Year, we think of friends and family, so it was with great sadness that I opened and read a letter from Betty Mullen in Portishead, Bristol. Betty was formerly Chairlady of the Portishead Machine Knitting Club and her letter was to tell me that Gloria Hughes had died. Gloria was known to MKM readers as Jamilla and we featured many of her Passap designs in the magazine. Gloria lived with her husband in Saudi for many years and during that time she developed her love of the Passap E6000. She came home to the UK for holidays, usually from November to January and again during the summer and was at a loss without her machine. She had no hesitation in buying another Passap to keep in England.

Betty and other club members first met Gloria when she retired from Saudi and returned permanently to the UK. As soon as she was back at home, I remember including a request in the magazine to see if we could find her a local knitting club. Betty spotted the letter, telephoned her and from then on the two became close friends. They also formed a small group of six knitters who each owned an E6000. Every Tuesday morning they met in one of their homes and Gloria taught them much more than the basics. A good time was enjoyed by all, including a good old natter. Gloria had been very ill for some time with several medical problems and sadly she passed away in October. Betty and the group will miss her very much at their Tuesday get-together. They'll always remember her - not only for her love of her machine, but also because she was a really kind and helpful person. Over the years I often chatted to Gloria and the last time I saw her was at the Thornbury Show. Together with Nick Traylen at Uppingham Yarns we sorted out some 2/30s for her to take home to knit. Although her health was failing at that time, she still had lots of ideas and enthusiasm for future designs. I'm most grateful to Betty for letting me know and I'm sure you'll all join me in sharing the group's grief at Gloria's passing.

Norman Whitfield's hat and scarf set is an excellent way to use up oddments of yarn.

DIARY DATE CHANGE

After such a sad start, let me leave you on a brighter note by letting you know the revised dates for Machine Knitting LIVE in 2011. I've managed to move the Chepstow Show to a Saturday. If my memory hasn't totally failed, I'm almost sure it's around the time that Alice used to have her summer Get-Together. We'd pack up from the Croydon Show one weekend and head for Wales the next. This year, there's a week in between so the Croydon Show will be on Saturday 16th July, followed by the Chepstow Show on Saturday 30th July. Please make a date to join us at Croydon and Chepstow for some Summer fun.

Sole Comfort

Yes, Spring really is just around the corner and we never thought we'd see the day when heels could come with the promise of comfort. Here's a beautiful selection of tailored wedges and sandals for those looking for the 'height' of fashion. Bridging the gap between style and comfort for over 100 years, Josef Seibel is now available online so it's even easier to get ahead of the game and invest in a shoe that will last longer than just the summer. The new JS Platin collection offers wider fits and removable foot beds. The Airped system absorbs shock as you walk to ensure feet are less tired and Arneplant soles absorb sweat, keeping feet dry. For information on the Josef Seibel collections and stockists visit www.josefseibel.co.uk

Cosy Toes

As the winter brings cold days and even colder nights our feet are generally out of sight and out of mind. Chilblains, corns and calluses are much more common with the onset of cold weather so keep feet as warm as possible. Once they're cold they can take a while to warm up again so wear socks and good quality boots. Josef Seibel bridges the gap between style and comfort by offering a wider range of designs and heel heights. Here are their top tips keep you both trendy and comfortable!

- 1 Opt for round toed or mid-heeled party shoes to reduce foot pain.
- 2 Thermal insoles, wool linings, thick socks and hard-wearing foot beds will fend off the cold weather and help against chilblains.
- 3 Exfoliate and moisturise regularly and visit your nearest Shuropody store for a free foot health check.
- 4 Feet sweat and footwear needs to dry out, so alternate shoes regularly.
- 5 Don't compromise style for comfort. Bejewelled boots or patent pumps make just as much impact as a stiletto heel, but without the 'ouch' factor.
- 6 Have corns and calluses removed to prevent them becoming worse and rubbing painfully on shoes.

Sugru

Sugru is a completely new invention that has a million uses. It's a unique silicone product with special appeal for anyone into DIY, crafts, gadgets and general creativity. It fixes or adapts all sorts of things in all sorts of ways. It's a bit like magic modelling clay for grown-ups. You mould it into whatever shape you like and then it cures by itself to become a tough, flexible, colourful silicone rubber. The magic bit is that it's sticky and securely bonds to lots of other materials including aluminium, steel, wood, ceramics, glass and many plastics and fabrics. It doesn't flinch with high temperatures (up to 180C) and it's even dishwasher proof. It all adds up to the ideal substance for fixing or adapting pretty much anything you can think of! Use it to repair a hole in the toe of your trainers, make personalised bike handle grips, turn an old flask into a stylish vase, make plugs easier to pull from the sockets, make a saucepan lid safe to hold when hot, add 3D decorations to cheer up an old mug, make protective bumpers for the latest iPhone, make hard table corners safer for kids, make headphones fit your ears better, fix ski pole handles at the North Pole!

Sugru was selected as one of the best designed products in the world in 2010 by the London Design Museum. It's available in two pack sizes. The 'Smart Hacks Pack' costs £6 and contains six individual 5g sachets (30g total weight) in a single choice of colour. The 'Smart Hacks Super Pack' costs £11 and contains 12 individual 5g sachets (60g total weight) in a mix of black, green, orange and blue. Sugru is sold on the website and at London's Design Museum shop. For pictures and ideas on how to use it, visit www.sugru.com

Cute Kids

Jo Newton has published a new book of cartoon motifs for children of all ages. It's for punchcard and electronic machines and discs are available. It costs £4.99 plus 60p p&p in the UK and she got the idea from the Cute Kids designs we asked her to do for us a while ago. It's actually the first new book she's done for several years so we all hope it will sell well. Jo's Cuties is featured on Jo's new updated website and if you'd like to get in touch or order, contact Jo Newton, Barrowby Old Hall, Grantham, Lincolnshire NG32 1BX

Let's Twist Again

We need to tell you about a new Aran yarn from King Cole. Called Twist Aran, it's a blend of 26% Wool and 74% Premium Acrylic. It has a really good yardage with around 240 metres (264 yards) per 100 gram ball. The rich colours change subtly whilst knitting, so each garment is unique. We've tried it on a chunky machine and it knits up really well, so do look out for patterns in forthcoming issues.

The second yarn is one we all know, but in a new thickness. The Merino family is now enhanced with a chunky version. Merino Blend Chunky is 100% Pure New Superwash Wool in 12 attractive shades and costs around £3 per 50 gram ball. We've some men's designs knitted in it on Page 21 and more to follow in future issues.

Playing Hooky

Those contemplating signing up for Debbie Siniska's craft course at the 370-acre Farncombe Estate in the Cotswolds had a sneaky preview on TV when she taught Kirstie Allsopp the traditional techniques of hooky.

If you'd like to learn the art of rag rug making, the course is at the Farncombe Estate from Friday 8th to Sunday 10th April. Debbie has been a course tutor at Farncombe Estate for four years and she also teaches felt making. The Tate Gallery commissioned and sold her rugs which accompanied an important Bloomsbury exhibition to celebrate the millennium. Debbie works for interior design companies as well as privately and she sells through galleries and art shows.

It seems that Channel 4 chose to include rag rugging in the programme because of the volume of requests it received through Twitter. Debbie also makes functional doormats out of old woollies and T-shirts and memory mats from treasured textiles such as baby clothes. The 2011 programme is Farncombe's eighth year and courses can be booked by calling 0333-456 8580. Do visit Debbie's website to see her fabulous designs at www.debbiesiniska.co.uk

Craft 4 Crafters

Craft 4 Crafters exhibition takes place at Westpoint Centre, Clyst St Mary, Exeter EX5 1DJ from Thursday 27th to Saturday 29th January. There will be loads to see, do and buy. You can buy craft products, see the latest ranges, enter competitions and judge exhibits. Over 100 local and national companies offer products for cross stitching, knitting, card making, papercrafts, stamping, scrapbooking, sewing, beading, painting, patchwork, quilting, embroidery and lace making. Entry for adults is £6 on the door and £5 in advance. Concessions are £5 on the door and £4 in advance. Children under 16 years go free when accompanied by an adult. Beat the queues by booking on-line at www.craft4crafters.co.uk or call 0845-30 40 222.

Cambridge calling

Cambridge Machine Knitting Club has been going for about 30 years and it's a great place to learn about machine knitting in a friendly and informal atmosphere. Members willingly share resources and knowledge with each other. Whether it's a small amount of yarn or a spare part for a machine, there's usually someone who can help, or who knows a man who can! The fortnightly meetings include problem solving, demonstrations and exchanging ideas over tea and cakes. Topics covered range from the basics to more advanced techniques and include everything in between so everyone is welcome. Members take part in an Annual Competition - a light-hearted, non-compulsory event that's much enjoyed by all. It's usually held around Easter so the winners are usually rewarded with Easter Eggs. During the year members enjoy two social nights out, perhaps indulging in a meal at one of the good pubs in Cambridge. Some members also act as Knitting Buddies and will give advice over the telephone or personal tuition. Meetings are held on alternate Tuesday evenings during term time at Netherhall School, Queen Edith's Way, Cambridge from 7.30 to 9.30 pm. If you live in the area and would like more information, contact Janice on 01223-571465, Edith on 01223-248498 or Jeannette on 01223-701570. Hi Anne

I've noticed the letters about no knitting clubs in Queensland. You've probably already been advised that there's an internet group and I'm reasonably certain that a number of the members are from Queensland and have mentioned machine knitting clubs. In New Zealand we've a number of local clubs, each of which belongs to an Area group which in turn belongs to the New Zealand Machine Knitters Society. If readers type Machine Knitting into either Google or Yahoo they might be surprised how many machine knitters are available to assist. What I need to go on to say is that I'm sorry, I obviously didn't proof read my first e-mail to you. I'm sorry about that; my finger didn't shift over far enough and so I typed in an X instead of a Z and the correct address for Oz makers is OzMKers@yahoo.co.uk. Kind regards, Jean Dougall

Attention all Club Secretaries! Why not treat yourselves to a day out at one of these great venues? Whether it's a trip to stock up on yarn or a day out at a show, there are bargains to be had and plenty to be learned, so don't put it off any longer - call up today

Buyer beware

Hello Anne

Thank you for sending the first two magazines that I ordered from you on subscription. Now I have a big problem! I bought a Knitmaster 360 off eBay and it arrived yesterday. Very keen to start knitting again after a long time I unpacked it and it looked to be in good condition. I put the carriage on and needed all my strength to push it along. So I cleaned it up and oiled it, but that didn't work. I took the sponge bar out and it was well worn, so I replaced that and still I can't push the carriage along. I live in the sticks in Devon, more or less housebound, having no car to get out and where on earth do I find a man who repairs knitting machines down here? I'm bitterly disappointed and now I'm fast going off machine knitting! Do you happen to know if there is anyone in North Devon who can check out knitting machines? I'd be so grateful for some help before I throw this machine out of the top floor window!

Best wishes from Patricia Norton in Beaworthy
I contacted Patricia, suggested one or two things and asked if I could include her tale of woe in the magazine as a warning to others. If it seems too good to be true, it probably is! She happily agreed and here's her reply.
Dear Anne
Thank you so much for replying to my e-mail and of course you can put my letter in the magazine. If there's anyone who would like to get in touch down this end of the world, you can pass on my details. I purchased a bottle of Bellador oil and put some of that on the rail. I managed to push the carriage along, but after a while it was hard work again! I still have my LC2 lace carriage and that goes along with no trouble at all. There is a shop in North

Devon so I rang and asked if anyone could help, but added that I couldn't possibly take the machine to the shop. The man there said his son knew my area and he would pick the machine up, but no one has come for it and I'm here all the time. I still have my original Knitmaster 323, so at the moment the SRP60N ribber is attached to it and I'm managing to make myself a very plain jumper, but I'd rather have the 360 working. So if any help comes forth from you putting my letter in the magazine, I'd be very grateful. Best wishes, Patricia Norton
If you live anywhere near Beaworthy in Devon, do get in touch and I'll pass on Patricia's details. Of course we must keep things in perspective, but it's always hard to deal with the bitter disappointment of any purchase which doesn't live up to our expectations. Let's hope Patricia's tale will have a happy ending.

and mid gauge and also who makes mid gauge machines. Many thanks from Joy Barton in Shropshire by e-mail.

Thanks to Pat and Joy for writing and the explanation is simple. Whilst we've all been beaver away, often on our obsolete machines, a new generation of knitters has become hooked on machine knitting. The LK150 has been marketed as the ideal machine for hand knitters who would like to try out machine knitting for the first time. It's very popular in the USA and here's where it fits into the range. I'm quoting Silver Reed models, because Silver Seiko is the one remaining knitting machine manufacturer still in production.

DOUBLE TOP

Hi Anne

Can I ask a silly question please? I've a Brother 950i. In the magazine that arrived to-day, thank you, there are some patterns using double knit yarn and as I've loads of it I'd like to make some jumpers. The patterns say that they can be made on mid gauge machines. Is this what I have or can I adjust the pattern to use my machine? I did say it was a silly question! Always enjoy the magazine, keep up the good work! Best wishes Pat Gregory by e-mail
Hi Pat, you can knit soft DK yarn at high tensions (Tension Dial 10+) on standard gauge machines and low tensions on chunky machines (Tension Dial down at 1 or 2). Mid gauge machines are absolutely ideal for this weight of yarn.

Dear Anne

I see in the October 2010 issue of MKM that Evelyn Woodford from Australia had a query about different gauge knitting machines. I haven't done any machine knitting for three years and notice that quite a few patterns in the MKM use mid gauge machines. I've never heard of these machines before now and I have Brother 838, 881 and 950i models which are all standard gauge machines. Perhaps someone could write an article pointing out the difference between standard

On course

Dear Anne
I wonder if you could help me. I'm looking for a machine knitted cover for golf clubs and I know I saw one in a magazine but, for the life of me, can't find it. Do you keep a list or database or something of patterns and which magazine they are in? Is there a pattern? My son Matt discovered golf three summers ago and is, as the saying goes, fair besotted with it! I offered to make him some a couple of years ago when I saw a pattern and the idea of knitted covers didn't appeal to him at all. However, last week he drove the 1,800 kilometres down from Toronto to Prince Edward Island on the east coast of Canada. If he'd driven any further he'd have been in the Atlantic driving to the UK! I very tentatively mentioned the covers again and he jumped at it! Rather rash of me as I haven't yet discovered just where I saw them. He would like seven covers for his irons and one for a power wood (whatever that is) and I'll be happy to oblige, like a good mum. Marvellous, isn't it - even at 38 we can't resist doing something for them and it would make a nice birthday present. I thought I'd Swiss darn numbers on the ones for his irons and a PW (power wood) on the last one. Cheers, and I hope you can oblige! Best wishes, Gill Cooper in Canada

Well Gill, after 25 years of MKM, we gave up on a database a long time ago but I have found two patterns for you. The first will need you to look for your May 2008 issue and turn to Page 26. There are four pages of instructions for Heather Hofmeyr's splendid set of covers and she knitted them on her Silver Reed SK840. Maureen White's original covers were knitted on her Singer machine and here are the instructions for three irons. Add your own stripes or Swiss darn numbers as required. You'll need a small amount of black and white 4-ply yarn and use tension dial setting 6 as main tension (MT) throughout, unless otherwise stated.

Garter carriage

An absolute beginner again PART 4

This month Maggie Andrews considers why she decided to try using a garter carriage and sums up if it's really helped her knitting

I hope you found the Peru wrap, in the last issue, a useful garment for mid season wear or for layering when it gets really cold. Whilst I was knitting the sleeves, I had to constantly attend Molly to do the increases every eight rows and that was about every 12 to 15 minutes. I tried working on another machine at the same time, but I've very sensitive ears and the noise was most uncomfortable for me. I tried drowning it out with the radio and even used ear pieces to no avail, so I had to keep coming and going, up and down the stairs.

One bonus was that we could no longer hear her throughout the house, as I'd bought her a set of 'silent shoes'. I suppose I could call them 'sneakers' but their real name is Anti Vibration Feet and they're sold as silencers for washing machines, tumble dryers and the like. I bought them from my local Kleeneze lady and placed them under the feet of Molly's knitting machine table and to my amazement they really worked! All Molly's noise was kept in the one room.

Most of you who know me, know that my real love of machine knitting is in hand tooling techniques and that's of no use with Molly; she makes those lovely patterns entirely on her own. I was getting very frustrated with Molly wanting all the fun for herself and I began to think she wasn't so wonderful after all. I decided to sum up if she was helping me with the straight sections of my knitting, which was why I got her in the first place.

GOOD VIBRATIONS

Molly is so clever. She produces lovely textured patterns automatically and will knit as much fabric as you want, of the same width, effortlessly. This makes her very good for scarves, wash cloths, shawls, blankets, simple wraps, shrugs and so on plus lengths for cut and sew. I found her very easy to use, so long as I referred constantly to the manual and did exactly as it said.

Against that Molly is so very slow. It takes days for her to knit a large wrap or shrug. For shaped garment pieces, she demands regular attention to work the increases and decreases for her and there are very long periods to wait between any shaping for sleeves and so on. She's so very noisy that it's impossible for me to work alongside her, or on another machine in my work room. I found there's not much opportunity for my creativity when knitting with Molly. Perhaps it would be different if I'd a larger house where she could have a room to herself.

Molly came to me from the estate of a dear deceased friend, Olwen Carne, known to many machine knitters world wide. I've decided to send Molly for a permanent working holiday to Chris, a friend in the far north of Scotland. Chris is a very experienced garter carriage user and I'm sure Molly will settle in with her nicely and be much loved.

Before she goes off, I've one last task for her. My eldest grand-daughter Lucy needs a shrug, so that will be Molly's swan song. I was also bored with the few punchcards Molly fetched with her, so I decided to make a few of my own from hand knit patterns. I'd noticed when learning to cast on with Molly that spaces knit and holes purl so I'd only to translate the hand knitting instructions to holes and spaces and then punch the cards. Simple! It doesn't even matter what way you get them round, as one side of the fabric will be the right way. Here are a couple of the patterns I made. Punchcard 1 is the body of both shrugs and punchcard 2 is the border of the blue shrug.

It's worth having a look at all your existing punchcards. If they've about an even amount of holes and spaces, they'll be fine. Even some large Fair Isle patterns such as Argyle can be very effective. Large single motifs can be very bold as well. Put the punch card in and just try them. The two patterns above did nicely for Lucy's shrug. For this style I used pale blue 4-ply to knit just two plain rectangles and Molly is expert at that. I also made the same shrug in a lady's size with black 4-ply for my daughter. There's always a 'me too'.

While knitting the black 'check' rib border for the lady's shrug, I had my first couple of snags with the garter carriage. Molly ground to a halt in mid row. I lifted her slightly, gave her a jiggle, put her down and pressed the start button again - no luck, just a clunk. I read the manual page for when the garter carriage stops and did exactly as it said. I removed the needle by pushing it in first and then pulling it out. I lifted the front of the carriage, moved it back to the start of the row then unravelled the part knitted row. I turned back the row counter and the punchcard one row and some stitches dropped so I used the double-ended latch tool to remake the stitches to knit or purl. This rang a bell, because I used to hand tool patterns like this which only changed about every eight rows or so.

I checked and oiled the needle, put it back in and pressed the start button. Off Molly went again and finished the border, with only four dropped stitches in the whole 732 rows. Perhaps I should have changed the needle, but I was busy on my Silver Reed 840 at the time.

As a short ‘test’ I cast on 28 stitches, set up for 6 x 6 rib and worked as follows,  K 8 rows. Transfer ribber bed sts to main bed. You can use a transfer carriage for this if you have one. Transfer main bed sts to ribber bed . Rep from  to . This was so quick compared to Molly. She took about 100 minutes for 100 rows and it took me 39 minutes on my machine and ribber so I was well pleased. This pattern changes all the stitches to the opposite bed every eight rows. Most garter carriage patterns need only a few stitches changed for each 24 stitch width of the punchcard on every row.

Having done this, I think I’ll go back to my old ways and make a same-style large lady’s shrug on the main bed and ribber with a hand-worked garter pattern border for knitters without a garter carriage. I’ve also run out of space this time, so do look out for the March issue if you’d like the pattern for my cosy shrug. It’s written for both garter carriage knitters and those with a ribber. ■

Second time around

Readers who've followed this series from the start will know that Beryl Jarvis has been taking us through her beginner's course

Let me start this month by mentioning that my course is very flexible and doesn't work towards a certificate. We also don't have a hard and fast curriculum to follow. Instead I've always tried to cover all the basic techniques of machine knitting. My intention is to help knitters understand (as much as possible) how their machine works, how to make it do what's needed and how to put things right when they go wrong. Other courses working towards a certificate often have to stick strictly to the course as planned. However, I've so far been able to steer clear of restrictions and I can gear the course for the individuals I'm teaching. Many of my students have years of knitting behind them before starting on my course, yet are often surprised at the number of new things they discover. None of us knows it all and I also expect to see something from a different angle with each new group that I teach.

Because of the flexibility of my course, some students have returned for several years. Naturally, they don't want to repeat skills already learnt so in most years, I've split the classes into two groups of beginners and improvers or returners. I'm now going to move on and follow the improvers.

They have often had to miss a class during the previous year because of holidays or illness. They will then join the beginners to cover the techniques missed the second time around. When they start out, some students are simply afraid of the machine. Any previous classroom experience was so many years ago, that they feel they did not take it all in the first time - so they like to follow the course from the beginning again. I often find that it's individual topics that they'd like to cover again. Whatever the reason,

I allow the students the freedom to follow the beginners or take the same or similar topics a stage further.

As the students arrive I'm around to help them set up their machines. In the first week the beginners often come with the parts in a collection of bags. The improvers sometimes own up to the fact that they've been so busy during the summer break that the machine has not been unpacked since the last class. A common problem is, "help Beryl, where does this go and why won't this work". They also catch up with each other's news and this is all part of the evening. As long as the opportunity and the encouragement to learn is there, I feel that the social side is just as important. Long-term friendships can often build from meeting in a classroom.

This discussion often continues whilst I'm taking beginners through the basic machine parts and introducing them to some of the language of machine knitting. I encourage all my students to bring along some suitable yarns for the class. I find that 4-ply acrylic on cone is ideal for learning and playing about with on standard gauge machines. By this stage the improvers are sometimes so used to using one method of cast on that they have temporarily forgotten all other methods. So I'll cover all of the methods again but where the beginners are introduced to the methods and hopefully have time to try them all, the improvers will pick up on the ones they've forgotten and try again.

THE WEAVE METHOD

Not all methods are suitable for all machines and as an example machines with no weaving brushes can't do the weave method! However, if you have weaving brushes then this is one of the quickest and easiest methods when a finished edge is not required.

Leaving the other working needles in working position, bring alternate working needles forwards to holding position make sure the carriage is set to knit them back (see Fig. 1). Put weaving brushes into working position (see Fig. 2). Thread yarn into feeder 1/A take the yarn over the stems of the needles in front of the sinker pins and hold the yarn (see Fig. 3). Do not hold the yarn end tight, the weaving brushes must be able to push it over and under alternate needles. By holding the yarn down under the sinker plate it can't tangle in the brushes. Knit one row (see Fig. 4). You'll get a loop of yarn on the opposite side to the yarn end, so after a few rows pull the yarn end to pull the loop through and put the weaving brushes out of action. »

« ALTERNATE NEEDLES METHOD

Ignoring any needles you don't want to knit at all, bring alternate needles from non-working to working position and knit one row (see Fig.

5a). If you have a cast on comb it can be hung with the hooks over the loops between the needles. Move the other needles forwards (see Fig. 5b) and taking care, continue knitting (see Fig. 5c).

OLDER BROTHER CAST ON COMB

These combs have a small lever each end. Turn the lever so that it is at right angles to the comb (see Fig. 6a). Bring the required needles forward to working position. Put the comb, with the hooks facing you, in front of the needles and turn the levers to hold onto the sinker pins (see Fig. 6b). Knit one row. Free the yarn end from the hooks beyond the working area. Turn the levers to let the comb hang on to the yarn loops (see Fig. 6c). Continue knitting (see Fig. 6d).

CORD METHOD

Move the required needles forwards to working position. Knit one row (see Fig. 7a). If there are any smaller loops, especially at the edges, pull the needles back to increase the size of the loop (see Fig. 7b). Take a nylon cord between the sinker pins and the needles, over the yarn (see Fig. 7c). Hold the cord tightly whilst knitting the next few rows. Pull the cord out after about four rows to allow the knitting to fall away naturally. By this method the stitches can run

These are the normal methods for a quick, not finished cast on. The improvers will often comment that they had forgotten 'that way' and welcome the reminder. They also welcome a gentle return to life in the class! ■

Classwise revisited

Beryl Jarvis ran a very successful course in Leicester for more than ten years and her Classwise series of articles is based on life in her classroom and her teaching. The series started in To & Fro, then continued in Modern Machine Knitting and ended some long time ago here in Machine Knitting Monthly. So many knitters are retuning to machine knitting and asking for our help that we've decided to publish the articles again. This will not only give beginners a chance to follow through the course, but also allow those returning to machine knitting to make a fresh start. Beryl's Info Sheets are still available to readers and if you'd like a list of the full set, including prices, please send Beryl a self-addressed and stamped envelope to: Beryl Jarvis, 90 Asfordby Road, Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire LE13 0HR. This month Alice Wilmshurst offers lots of help and advice for E6000 knitters starting up again

STARTING ALL OVER

I've received several e-mails at aliceknit@mypostoffice.co.uk and it appears that there are a number of E6000 knitters who are getting our 'bug'. I'm also thinking that we might include a Q&A section for those E6000 knitters who've 'forgotten' how to start. It's a totally basic programme, so there's no need to panic.

YARN

Use two ends of 2/30s and any thin yarn is suitable because all it will do is change the size. May I suggest Bramwell Duomagic or Forsell 2-ply in a light colour. I tell all my new knitters to use 2-ply or a thin 3-ply until they feel ready to start experimenting. Please leave 4-ply and stocking stitch alone until you feel ready to tackle it. A good source of thin yarn is Uppingham Yarns (01572-823747) or Undy Yarncrafts (01633-881183) and both offer mail order. Mention the magazine and Uppingham will also send a free shade card.

Release Stitch Gadget

This has been reviewed in a PKMJ P24 Margaret Gillett of Geelong, Australia came up with an idea and her husband made this gadget.

Method Passap knitters who have acquired the U80 or U100 and have a U70 not being used can easily make the following gadget, for release stitch, by removing the white nylon cam plate from the back of the U70 and screwing it onto a piece of heavy gauge Perspex or wood using the holes already available. It's necessary to drill a hole for the knob handle taken from the U70. When replacing the knob do use a wooden knob, available from D.I.Y. stores. Wood is kinder on your hands than plastic.

What would you use this tool for?

By taking the gadget across the front bed from left to right and back again, it releases the stitches from the needles and there's no need to disconnect the two locks to take the front one across. The cam plate and knob can be put back on the U70 at any time if necessary.

This is important However, do remember that if you're using a commercial pattern, it may or may not take the extra rows into account that the disconnected lock would travel if you used it, whereas the release tool cannot effect your row counter.

To be more specific With release stitch you disconnect the beds, take the front lock to left and back again. Two movements on the row counter. A commercial pattern may take these extra rows into account, whereas the tool does not effect your row counter. Happy knitting Alice ■

Casting around

Norman Whitfield's main subject at last year's Metropolitan Dream Week was baby blankets and Afghans. He also wanted to find some quick knit ideas to use up oddments of yarn

I'd been making lacy tuck scarves for my daughter to sell when she takes a table at some local craft fairs, but I knew I couldn't do that because every Passap knitter knows the pattern! It was published in Metbury Designs Bitty Book (in a smaller version) and I'd also seen it elsewhere - though I can't remember where. Perhaps it was in one of Madag's Model Books? The original pattern was Stitch Pattern 1004 in the E6000 Pattern Book and Knit Technique 140 using a single end of 2/30s yarn.

My next thought was to try and develop the idea to make the fabric a little bit lacier when used with a fine yarn, or to make it possible to get the lacy effect with a variety of heavier yarns. I first enlarged the stitch pattern by two in stitches, but used only every second needle. In effect, it produced exactly the same pattern and using a single end of 2/30s, the fabric was a little bit lacier. Experimenting with some heavier yarns, I was still able to retain a lacy fabric.

I then took it a stage further and enlarged the pattern by three in stitches and used every third needle. This time the fabric was decidedly lacier when using a single end of 2/30s. I made a number of samples using the method with every third needle and I was happy with most of the results. I was particularly pleased with two ends in different shades of Metropolitan Fine Crêpe run together. A single end of 4-ply mercerised cotton also produced a nice fabric. A 4-ply mohair mix knitted without any problem and produced a nice fabric. I was surprised by the fact that I could knit 4-ply chenille in pattern with no problem whatsoever. The fabric was no longer lacy, but it was soft and attractive.

ENLARGE

There are several points to watch when using the 'enlarge by two and three' methods. When 1004/140 is programmed into the console the instruction will be 'handle down'. When enlarged by two, the needle set up will look like the set up for 1 x 1 rib and the console instruction should be ignored and 'handle up' should be used. When enlarged by three, the back bed needles used should be exactly centred between the front bed needles and in this case the 'handle down' instruction is correct. In all cases the needle rule should be broken and an extra needle should be brought up on the left edge on the back bed.

Deciding the needles to use also requires care. Looking at the diagram for Stitch Pattern 1004 you'll see that it has four columns and alternate columns have only white squares. Knit Technique 140 indicates that each black square represents four tucks so the white columns have only knit stitches. The front bed needles used should be arranged to have continually knitting needles at both edges and the pattern of the pushers looks the same both sides. For the narrowest version I used front bed needles from 24 left and every third needle to 19 right. Back bed for that set up would be 26 left and every third needle to 20 right. For a wider scarf I'd suggest front bed from 36 left and every third needle to 31 right. (Back bed 38 left and every third needle to 32 right.) Wider fabrics can be made by moving outwards in steps of six needles at both sides. Pushers for working needles only should only be brought out from the bottom rail.

With every third needle I used stitch sizes from 4/4 with the finest yarns to 5/5 for the heavier yarns. The lacy effect can be enhanced by the finishing and blocking with pins or wires and steaming results in a very fine fabric. The cast off must be very loose, particularly when blocking. Finally, here's a quick reminder of the steps to enlarge by 3 in stitches.

Winter warmer

Warm winter hat in two sizes with a matching scarf

Norman Whitfield's hat and scarf set is very simple to make and an excellent way to use up oddments of yarn.

Different effects can be achieved by mixing yarns and Yarn 1 should be two ends of 2/30s or one end of 3-ply yarn. For Yarn 2 try experimenting with a fine chenille or bouclé yarn or simply use another colour of 3-ply or equivalent. The hat has a lot of stretch and the smaller size will fit most children and the larger will fit most adults.

STITCH PATTERN

The basic pattern is based on Stitch Pattern 1000 and Knit Technique 145. However, to make the fabric reversible the back bed has to be set up to do the same as the front bed. Therefore the back bed pushers have to be set in alternate one up one down formation with the lock on AX and left arrow key pressed in.

NEEDLE RULE

When using a tuck technique, it's normal to break the needle rule and put an extra back bed needle on the left into working position to ensure that the end stitch always knits. In this case we're also tucking stitches on the back bed and this method of maintaining a nice edge will not work. We need to keep the end front bed needles knitting on every row and this time break the needle rule by taking away one back bed needle on the right hand side. This means the two outside needles are on the front bed.

YARN

Stitch sizes given are suggested for Yarn 1 and Yarn 2 being 3-ply or 3-ply equivalent. If one of the yarns is thicker make it Yarn 2 and increase the stitch size by a quarter or a half for the pattern only. Use Yarn 1 for casting on and casting off.

ROUGH ROW GUIDE

1000 rows will make a scarf 52 in (132 cm) long, or 5.2 in (13 cm) for every 100 rows. This is a guide only; actual measurements will depend on yarn and stitch size. Exact length is not normally critical, but you may wish to knit a small test swatch to gauge the feel of the fabric and adjust the stitch size to your preference.

Scarf TO KNIT

Bring out 40 Ns and pushers on both beds, starting at 20 left and finishing at 20 right. Observe needle rule. Work racking cast on using stitch size $3\frac{3}{4}/3\frac{3}{4}$. After two cast on rows, transfer right hand back bed stitch to front bed and put back bed needle and pusher out of work. Outside working needle on right and left should be on front bed. Set back bed pushers alternate one up, one down and not as shown in the manual for Knit Tech 145. Apart from this, follow console. Advance console to St Patt and knit scarf to required length.

CAST OFF

Hat TO KNIT

Bring out 91 [101] Ns and pushers on both beds, starting at 45 [50] left and finishing at 46 [51] right. Observe needle rule. Work racking cast on using stitch size $3\frac{3}{4}/3\frac{3}{4}$ and Yarn 1. Set RC at 000. Leaving locks on N/N, cont in every needle rib until RC shows 100. Transfer right hand back bed stitch to front bed and put back bed needle and pusher out of work. Outside working needle on right and left should be on front bed. Set back bed pushers alternate one up one down and not as shown in manual for Knit Tech 145. Apart from this, follow console. Advance console to stitch pattern. If Yarn 2 is heavier, consider changing stitch size. Knit in pattern as for Scarf until RC shows 105. (Total rows worked 205 and locks at left.) Set locks to N/N and knit to right. Switch off console. Cancel arrow key and return all pushers to out of work position. Handle up. (Half turn anti-clockwise.) Transfer stitches from back to front, and alternately front to back into 1 x 1 rib formation. If stitch size was increased for pattern section to accommodate Yarn 2, restore it now to $3\frac{3}{4}/3\frac{3}{4}$. Set locks to N/N and with Yarn 1, K 5 [7] rows. Increase stitch size to 5/5 and K 1 row. Thread double-ended bodkin with a doubled length of Yarn 1 and take stitches off needles one at a time onto this yarn to remove from machine. If you find it awkward switching from bed to bed when doing this, you might prefer to take the time to transfer all the stitches to one bed first.

TO MAKE UP

Starting with 'every needle' section, mattress stitch two side edges to approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ in (2 cm) from end of rib. Turn work outside in and continue to mattress stitch to end of seam. Take two ends of yarn threaded through last row of stitches and gather in crown of hat evenly as much as possible then knot yarn. Use ends to close small hole left in centre with several stitches. Form brim of hat by folding up one third of 'every needle' rib section. Make sure fold is straight right round and then fold up once more again making sure fold is straight. The fold can now be secured with a couple of stitches at seam. ■

“ The hat has a lot of stretch; the smaller size will fit most children and the larger size fits most adults ”

Crafty CABLES

Golden Rules...

- Rack in one direction and transfer stitches in the other direction
- Stationary stitches must be transferred separately, as they only move two places

Much as Bill King enjoys hand transfer techniques, he's all for ideas that speed things up a bit

Traditional cables set on a ground of face side stocking stitch can't be helped along much, so it's best to just get on with the business of crossing two transfer tools over each other. If, however all the cables are on the opposite bed (that is on a ground of reverse stocking stitch) the trusty racking handle can eliminate some of the effort.

If you consider the way a cable is formed with stitches going in opposite directions, it's logical to move the whole needle bed in one direction, then bring stitches back in the other, crossing over the racked stitches.

All the samples are worked over all needles on the main bed with 1 x 1 areas on the ribber and the ribber set to half pitch. The effect is of cables embossed on reverse stocking stitch. The number of twists in each direction needs to be equal, otherwise you'll get to the end of the rack with no more twists in that direction until you've done some in the other!

ORANGE SWATCH

This is the easiest sample to knit and the transfers can be done with the seven prong tool set in a 1 x 3 arrangement. After knitting the rib and transferring to the main bed, bring needles into work on the ribber according to the chart and pick up heels from stitches on the main machine. (You needn't do this for experiments; just let the needles pick up on the next row.) Knit four rows and rack two places to the right. Transfer stitches 1 and 3 four places to the left, crossing over stitches 2 and 4. This should result in two little cables forming. With four rows in between, do another two more twists in the same direction, then knit ten rows before working three twists in the opposite direction. (Rack two places to the left, transfer stitches 2 and 4 four places to the right, knit ten rows and repeat.)

Red swatch

Brown swatch

Needle arrangement

Why not try...

- Plating contrasting yarns to make the cables stand out
- Tuck lace with needles out of work between cable panels
- Analysing any mistakes for the seeds of a new design

“ I’m first in line to make it look as though more time and effort has been spent than is actually the case ”

BEIGE SWATCH

More complicated cables need one or more stitches to remain stationary, so they have to be moved back to their original positions after racking. The first three twists are the same as the previous swatch. The following three twists are worked over stitches 3 and 2 only so, after racking two places to the left, stitch 1 moves two places back to the right to its original place. Stitch 3 moves four places to the right crossing over stitch 2, then stitch 4 moves two places to the right to its original place. Repeat this twist twice more and then repeat from the start.

RED SWATCH

Here’s a plaited cable worked over five stitches, with the same principle used over any odd number. Rack two places to the left. Stitch 1 moves two places to the right back to its original place; stitches 5 and 3 move four places to the right, crossing over stitches 4 and 2. Knit four rows. Rack two places to the right. Stitch 5 moves two places to the left back to its original place; stitches 1 and 3 move four places to the left crossing over stitches 2 and 4. Knit four rows and repeat.

BROWN SWATCH

The background of reverse stocking stitch can be jazzed up further with a panel of tuck stitch, choose something that doesn’t pull the fabric up too much. Otherwise this sample is worked exactly as the Red Swatch. ■

Mock rib instructions

Used for welts, cuffs, neckbands and other edges on single bed machines without a ribber.

Push the number of main bed needles given in pattern to working position. Push every alternate needle back to non-working position for a 1x1 rib or every third needle back to non-working position for a 2x1 rib. It may be necessary to reduce this number by one needle at one or both edges to keep the rib even. (Increase the stitches after the mock rib has been worked to give the same number as the pattern.)

Using main tension and waste yarn, cast on and knit a few rows ending with carriage at left. Set row counter at 000. Using at least two full sizes tighter than main tension, knit the number of rows given in pattern for rib. Using three full sizes looser than this tension, knit one row. (This loose row gives a neat fold line.) Return to two full sizes tighter than main tension and knit the same number of rows as before. Push empty needles from non-working to working position and make a hem by placing loops of first row worked in main yarn evenly along the row. Make sure that each empty needle holds a loop to prevent a row of holes across the work. Unravel waste yarn when work has been removed from machine. After garment has been blocked to size, insert a metal welt bar or thin, clean piece of wood through the hem and pull firmly downwards to draw the stitches of mock rib closer together. Set the stitches by steaming lightly on the wrong side, if pressing instructions permit.

Quick cast-on

This method can be used not only for speed but also when the edges are either hidden or to be gathered by pulling up yarn end. With carriage at right, push alt Ns to WP. Use tension dial setting and either MY or WY as given in pattern. K 1 row. Carefully hook on the cast-on comb. Push remaining alt Ns to WP and K 1 row. The carriage is back at right. Cont as given in pattern instructions. When knitting is removed from machine, pull yarn end at cast-on edge to gather up sts or, for a straight edge, pull yarn end to remove any slack and fasten off. Your manual will describe this method of casting on although it may be called by a different name and may not use a cast-on comb. ■
